PEAKS ISLANDERS SPEAK
The Peaks Island Research Committee Taps Opinion by Phone

During the last month, if you were a registered Peaks Island voter, you probably received a phone call from a canvasser gathering opinions about island politics. It began like this:

"Hello, this telephone canvas is being conducted by the Research Committee of people who have been looking into Portland's current budget and proposed governmental changes for Peaks Island, including secession."
-We asked you some demographic questions and how much of a hardship your current tax bill presented.
-We asked you to rate the importance of certain municipal services.
-We asked you about ourselves, and how you learned about our activities.
-We even tested you on Civics I, with questions about the Town Meeting form of government and whether you thought islanders could handle it.
-We even asked you how you felt about secession - now - while so much information is yet incomplete.

Are you curious about some of the things we learned? Here's a very brief synopsis:
-We're almost evenly divided into young families, middle-agers and folks over 55.
-44% of us feel the current tax impact is "somewhat serious" in our life.
-57% of us feel a town meeting with professional management would be workable here.
-Education is the most important municipal service to us.
-Whatever our feelings toward secession may be in November '93, 92% of us want the right to vote on it then and with no more information than is currently available, 31% would vote now to separate from Portland.
-Only 5% declined to participate.

Why did we use the Voter Registration List for our sample? Don't we care about the opinion and involvement of summer residents? Here's our turn to answer some of your questions.
-Only registered voters may legally participate in a referendum.
-The list was readily available and we began the canvas well before July 4.
-While we're on the subject, if there are any registered voters we've missed who would like to voice an opinion, please call 766-2246.
-We're not sure of the best formal way to get to our interested seasonal neighbors. We've been talking informally, but we're anxious for you to make some better suggestions. How about a Saturday meeting?

OK, A MEETING IT IS: SATURDAY, AUGUST 15, ST. CHRISTOPHER'S HALL, 10 AM-12 NOON.

Oh, one more thing: thanks for participating.
